Individual Disability Income insurance

Protect the asset you rely on most – your income

As a physician, it took years of training, education and commitment to get where you are – and you have a financial future to protect. That’s why individual Disability Income (DI) insurance is so essential. With it, if you have an illness or injury that keeps you from working as a physician, you’ll receive benefits that work “like a paycheck”. They can help you continue to pay everyday bills and keep your plans on track.

To help you protect your lifestyle and financial future, the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) Insurance Services has teamed up with Principal® to offer you DI coverage at a discount.

What can I expect?

- You can receive up to 20%¹ in discounts on the cost of coverage, and the policy cannot be cancelled² or changed even if you have changes to your income, occupation or health.
- Up to $20,000/month in benefit payments.³
- Opportunity to enhance your definition of disability, giving you the most comprehensive definition.⁴
- Ability to add a feature that provides additional benefit payments if you become catastrophically disabled.⁵

What does income replacement look like?

Principal DI works well with existing coverage you might already have through the association or your employer’s long-term disability (LTD) policy.

Chart based on $25,000 gross monthly income ($300,000 annually), with a 60% group LTD program (with a monthly cap of $10,000), assuming a 30% tax bracket for Federal, State and FICA. This is a hypothetical example. For illustration purposes only.

Introducing Bagel, the DPC software with zero compromises.

Charting, billing, scheduling, patient communication, e-prescribing, ordering, tasks, custom forms, inventory management, e-fax.

Coming in August 2019. Join the waitlist at <https://bagel.md> before the end of the conference to get $300 of early bird credit when we launch.
